

Figure 1: Another visualization of Pearson's correlation coefficient. Blue means a positive linear relationship between the two, red is a negative relationship.